

Egan CR8™

An innovative modular case that when stacked together encourages different configurations to suit a variety of workplace needs. On trend to create purposeful spaces in office and social spaces, Egan CR8™ can be installed as a single unit, or can be stacked or ganged in multiples to create storage, benching, and interesting visual appeal. A standard CR8 is ready for almost any installation configuration, with or without the optional inset door.

Pilot holes in the gables, top, and bottom are a design feature and facilitate the stacking or ganging of multiples with use of the included Chicago bolts. Egan CR8 is available in a range of standard or custom veneer body finishes. The optional door can be specified in veneer, or add a splash of color, standard or custom color, with Egan Etex finish.
